LINCOLN DISTRICT TRIUMPHANT!

The returns of last evening establish the fact that Robinson is elected by a handsome majority over all others, although another Whig candidate was in the field, and the whole power of that part of the Sub-Treasury which is located at Wiscasset, was brought to bear upon the election. When the editor of the Globe next undertakes to count the votes in favor of the Sub Treasury bill he may leave out Lincoln District, as Mr Robinson is gone to Washington for another purpose, and can't accommodate the Tories with just such a vote as they would like, on that or any other hair-brained experiment.

[From the Maine Wesleyan Journal.]

FATE OF THE TEMPERANCE BILL. We regret exceedingly to announce to our readers, that this Bill was crushed in the Senate, on the eve of its final passage, after having passed the House by a handsome majority And what is more humiliating, it seems to have been done by a party vote.

Why either party should be afraid to submit a question to the people in their primary assemblies, and yet refuse to allow it a passage there—a question and a bill too of so much moment to the morals, wealth, and industry of State, it is difficult to conceive. We hope that some explanation will be given that will free the Senate from an imputation which we are unwilling should rest upon it. We shall wait to hear.

To the above judicious remarks of the Journal, we add

What will the people say to the vote of the Senate, on the Temperance bill which refers the subject of retailing to the decision of the people themselves at the ballot boxes. It was lost in the Senate by a party vote, 8 whigs for the bill, and 9 locos against it. Such is the respect which that party shows for the wishes of the people. With all their democracy and love for the people, they seize every opportunity to stifle the voice of public opinion, and to show their contempt for the will of the majority. The vote of the Senators from Penobscot on that bill will be remembered. Had the vote been merely to reject a restraining law on the subject of Temperance, it might have been excused by urging that the public would not sanction such a law But, to declare as that vote does, that the people themselves shall not express their opinion on the subject, evinces a hostility to the cause not only of temperance, but of Freedom, which would be truly astonishing in any but a loco foco Assembly.

PORTLAND TRANSCRIPT.—The second volume of this interesting literary paper will be commenced next week. As this will soon be the only exclusively literary paper in Maine, it is to be hoped that a liberal patronage will be given to it. So many attempts have been made to establish a publication of this character, which have failed, the person who had the perseverance and hardihood, we had almost said, to continue his work after the first year, surely merits strong encouragement. The Editor, C P. Ilsley, intends to improve its character with its increase of circulation, and we hope that his paper will compare with any thing of the kind in the Union It is printed neatly, in a quarto form giving eight pages a week, at the very low price of two dollars a year, or ten copies for fifteen dollars, SMITH & FESSENDEN are agents

MUNICIPAL COURT.

April 5th, 1838

Hosea Hardy and James Huff, of Milton, arraigned on charge of having in their possession a large quantity of the better, or hard currency Ordered to recognize to appear before the Supreme Court in June next in the sum of $2000 each, and the same day on another warrant, ordered to recognize to appear at the Court of Common Pleas in May next in the sum of $500 each Committed.

Thomas C. Thompson, of Orono, arraigned for having about 90 counterfeit dollars ordered to recognize in the sum of 500, to appear at the S. J. Court found security.

Jonathan Fellows and Mark Pettengil of Orono arraigned and examination postponed to Monday. Daniel Hanson discharged.

Milo, April 3d, 1838

To the Editor of the Whig and Courier.

Sir—I noticed an article in the Democrat, giving an account of the municipal election in this town. As the Locos appear to be much elated at what they call a democratic triumph, I think it proper that the facts in relation to the election should be made known.

An agreement was made by a number of citizens living in the upper and west parts of the town, to prevent an election of any of the town officers in the usual way, and thus prevent a division of the town between the political parties in the central part of the town. This agreement succeeded in the election of Noah Dow as Town Clerk and first Selectman. A Whig was then elected by a handsome majority The third man (a loco) was then elected, when Mr Tolman, the Whig selectman, finding his colleague had no party, declined serving, and the Whigs then left it to the Locos to elect their third man. The whole thing is a test vote was given for the Moderator, Treasurer, Collector and School Committee all Whigs The Locos elected the best capable men they had, and some of their minor men if they were the most popular of the party. Whigs say this, in a town meeting, called for the purpose of regulating the jury box, it is [illegible] very [illegible] of [illegible] weeks.

[Extract from the Correspondence of the N. Y. Daily Advertiser.]

"As the story goes, Amos Kendall, Postmaster General, goes into the Treasury Department, Felix Grundy changes the Secretary for the Post Master General Levi Woodbury goes to England. Mr Dickinson goes home, and Mr. Stephenson our Minister to England comes home, living is too expensive in London, and takes the place of the Secretary of the Navy Such is the story of Dame Rumor. I believe the last, but cannot believe the whole Levi Woodbury to England, and Amos Kendall into the Treasury Department! This would be at the bottom of the hill with a vengeance I give the report for what it is worth. I will not censure it or believe it until the appointments are made, and the confirmations published That Cabinet changes are intended by and by, and very soon too I do not doubt; but that the Executive is prepared so far to insult public opinion as to make such changes, I do not believe The moral sense of the country shrinks from it. Amos Kendall I believe controls Mr Van Buren very much, though in a different way, as Mr Van Buren controlled Gen Jackson General Jackson loved Mr. Van Buren as a kind of political adopted son. Mr. Van Buren controlled him "by pulling the right string," by saying yes, yes, and nay, nay, to all that Gen. Jackson said, and by putting himself into that very comfortable position of never having a word of his own word Amos Kendall controls Mr. Van Buren by his resolution and his power. Mr. Van Buren dreads him, despises him, and fears him. and fearing him, Mr Kendall has but to command and the Executive, by the permission of General Jackson, will obey. But of these Cabinet changes and the measures in relation to them, time will give us the truth Ritchie has the safest texts and so nous verrons

THE SUB TREASURY BILL AS IT IS A very erroneous opinion seems to prevail among many, that the Sub Treasury Bill as amended in the Senate being shorn of its cardinal and obnoxious features, is now a very harmless affair and may pass the House of Representatives It is a very serious error, and the sooner it is corrected the better It is true that striking out the specie section in the Senate was a victory, inasmuch as it gained the vote of Mr. Calhoun and threw the administration into a decided minority, nevertheless, the effect of receiving bank notes from specie paying banks is full as objectionable as making it specie in the bill. What would be the effect if the law passed? A Bank would be selected in this city as the Receiving Bank for Government the Bank of America for example as bank notes are paid for Government dues, the whole will be sent on deposite to the Receiving Bank, and specie will be drawn from all the Banks for these notes forthwith The Government in issuing ten millions of Treasury notes refuse very dishonestly to receive them in payment for dues, the result then is, you must pay in specie or in notes of specie paying banks, and it follows that the very small amount of specie the banks now have on hand, will soon find its way into the iron safe of the Government The best course is, to hunt the "monster" out of the House—it is a bill in all its provisions fraught with imminent danger, and no effort should be spared to defeat it [N Y Star

Why don't the Locos boast of a democratic triumph in Dover where a loco-foco majority was given in September last? The just as the town clerk and one of the selectmen of Dover are Whigs

We understand that the Bangor Sacred Music Society are preparing to entertain the public on Thursday evening next with a Concert of Sacred Music at the Baptist meeting house We hope it is true

A joiner's shop on the Orono road a mile and a half from Kenduskeag bridge was consumed by fire yesterday The bells in the city commenced ringing about 2 o'clock, and there was a general turn out of the fire companies But they were too late to extinguish the fire. The loss was not great.

Steamboat from England The steam ship Sirius, of 700 tons and 320 horse power, Lieutenant Richard Roberts, R. N Commander, is advertised to leave London on the 20th inst and Cork on the 2d of April, for New York She is expected to make the passage in fifteen days She is chartered by the British and American Steam Navigation Company of London, to anticipate the completion of the steam ship Royal Victoria, which is now building. The fare for cabin passengers is $140, and for the second cabin $80 [Boston Weekly Messenger.

WHERE THE SMALL CHANGE GOES The Poughkeepsie Eagle says "Amos Kendall, Esq Post Master General of the United States, has sent an order to the Postmaster of this place, directing him to transport all the funds received in the post office here, to New-York, in specie! Last week he took down $2000 that had been scraped together from the scanty change that yet remains among us"

ECONOMY IN THE NAVY.—For the purpose of economizing the funds of the nation, the Secretary of the Navy, it is said, has determined not to furnish our ships of War, at sea, with surgeons! It has been ascertained, especially on that healthy station, the West Indies, that Surgeons are entirely unnecessary and needlessly expensive!

There is now a fair prospect that an important link in the chain of travel between the North and South will be speedily completed The Virginia House of Delegates has passed a bill appropriating three fifths of $1,000,000 to make a railroad from Fredericksburg to Alexandria

New Steam Route to India. English enterprise is determined to take the sceptre of a steaming out of the hands of Fulton's country—a Some London gentlemen, with Captain Ross, the daring navigator, propose to go the full voyage to India by steam around the Cape of Good Hope, with ships of 1200 tons, which will carry 600 of Merchandize, to arrive in fifty two days, making one stop only. Collier's new engine, experimented upon successfully by Captain Ross, is to be used. When will steam wonders cease?

It is a remarkable fact, and denotes a decided improvement in the anatomical delineation, that in the picture of the Postmaster General, as published in the Democratic Review at Washington, the legs of that individual are represented on a chair at least one foot longer than those of the chair against which one of them is placed, in a perpendicular position. The artist has paid only the chief of a fee; but by a happy stretch, he has connected him with a [illegible] [illegible] eight reigns, [illegible] Louis XV, under [illegible] [illegible]

[From the Boston Courier.]

[illegible] Morning Post, the [illegible] announced the king of a [illegible] on Jackson's birth-day, and in a paroxysm of Dutchman glorification quoted the following lines of Goldsmith in application to this too notorious personage:—

"As some tall cliff that rears its awful form,
Swells from the vale, and midway leaves the storm,
Though round its breast the rolling clouds are spread,
ETERNAL SUNSHINE settles on its head!"

And yet this was not meant for burlesque! Truly there never was an oriental despot that possessed a pack of such besotted, soulless, crouching slaves, as the worshippers of Andrew Jackson. Think of a man, who pretends to call himself an American and a freeman, invoking eternal sunshine upon the head of a person who has violated the laws of the country, plunged the whole commercial, manufacturing and agricultural interests in ruin, and brought the American character into the foulest disgrace before the whole world

And this man
Is now become a god! and Cassius [i e] Morning Post] is
A wretched creature * * And we petty men [i e. true democrats,]
Walk under his huge legs and peep about
To find ourselves dishonorable graves!

Eternal sunshine forsooth! Why, the very mention of the name of Andrew Jackson calls to mind every thing that is vile, contemptible and humiliating ruinous experiments, shameless profligacy, quackery, humbug, fraud and violence Eternal sunshine!

General Jackson has done more in his mischievous administration of eight years, to bring Republican government into disgrace, than the French revolutionists accomplished in their whole career of blood. Eternal sunshine!

He found this country prosperous, happy and tranquil at home, and respected abroad Alas! where are we now? Eternal sunshine!

He found the government stable and regular He left it without constitutional landmarks and all confidence in it destroyed Eternal sunshine!

He found the finances of the government in a condition the most secure and prosperous in the world He created pet banks for the safe keeping of the public money, which speedily converted millions of surplus revenue into millions of public debt Eternal sunshine!

He reformed the public administration by removing honest men from office, and filling their places with creatures of his own kidney Gentle reader count, if you are expert in arithmetic, the number of public defaulters, swindlers, cheats, embezzlers, runaways, thieves, bank robbers, perjurers, ruffians and knaves of every description, who have been placed in office by General Jackson But "your arrant knave is my honest friend," quoth Davy to Justice Shallow The whole history of the Federal Government, from Washington to John Quincy Adams, does not exhibit a third part so much villany as has been perpetrated by the profligates who were placed in office by Jackson in his eight years of disgraceful misrule Eternal sunshine!

He found the congress of the United States an orderly, respectable body, and the people of the country an orderly and [illegible] people He left both in a state of degradation, disgraceful broils in the chambers of legislation, and mobs, duels, and commotions without. All this ruffianism of manners may be traced directly to the influence of Jackson and the stamp of unprincipled desperadoes which he kept around him Eternal sunshine!

Even crazy Tom Benton cannot stand this—No longer ago than yesterday, he exclaimed that the country was about to be plundered of all its national domain Eternal sunshine

There is not a decent man in the country, but is not now thoroughly convinced that there can be no permanent safety for the merchant, the farmer, the laborer, or the manufacturer, in their several occupations, till the fiscal concerns of the country are restored to the precise condition in which they stood before the presumptuous ignorance of General Jackson ruined them Eternal sunshine.

But, in spite of all this, there will be found mean, grovelling creatures enough to abase themselves in the dirt, at the feet of the chieftain. Only give one of these wretched beings an office, that secures him a few paltry dollars, and all self-respect and sense of shame are banished forever We know of nothing that can illustrate their readiness at this sneaking self-degredation, better than the following behavior Sancho Panzo

"Prithee, hold thy tongue," said Don Quixote, "the matter is above thy capacity. Remember thy own adage 'Honey was not made for an ass's mouth' an ass thou art, and an ass thou will be to the day of thy death"

Sancho hung his head in great mortification, and at last blubbered out in a doleful tone "Master, you are quite right; and I confess that, in order to be a complete ass, I want nothing but a tail. If your worship will only have a tail fixed to me, I will follow you as an ass all the days of my life."

This is a true spirit of the disciples of Jackson They are now hard at work, sewing their tails on. The long ears, and other asinine appendages, they had from the beginning.

Communing with One's Self. A person of a truly superior and philosophic mind, would seldom wish to forego the inestimable privilege of communing with himself Sir Walter Scott says in his diary "From the earliest time I can remember, I preferred the pleasure of being alone to wishing for visitors, and have often taken a bannock and a bit of cheese to the wood or hill, to avoid dining with company. As I grew from boyhood to manhood I saw this would not do, and that to gain a place in men's esteem, I must mix and bustle with them. Pride and exaltation of spirits often supplied the real pleasure which others seem to feel in society: yet mine certainly upon many occasions was real Still, if the question was, eternal company, without the power of retiring within yourself, or solitary confinement for life, I should say "Turnkey, lock the cell"

Novel Travelling Carriage A carriage has just been built for George Newman, Esq of Bedford place, Kensington, which, for elegance and Comfort in travelling, surpasses anything we have ever seen. It is divided into two compartments, one being used as an ante waiting room, and the other as a drawing room, or bed room, with every comfort, convenience, and elegance that could be desired. The ante room contains a table, dressers, and culinary utensils; the drawing room, reclining sofas, [illegible] chairs, [illegible] and a splendid chandelier of nine lights in the middle A stove [illegible] the height of [illegible] feet, the breadth nine, height [illegible] nine, and length of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

NOTICE.

WHEREAS, certain Notes signed by the subscriber, dated April 10th, 1835, and made payable jointly and severally, to John Wilkins, at the Kenduskeag Bank, in Bangor one payable in ninety days with interest, one in one year, with interest, and two in two and three years, with interest annually. This is to caution and forbid all persons from purchasing the same, as there was no consideration for said notes. Said notes have never been presented to me, but are improperly and unlawfully withheld from my possession.

WARREN PRESTON.
Bangor, March 9, 1838.

The above-mentioned notes were written by me, for the purpose of being signed by W. Preston and another person, jointly and severally. They were to be returned to me if signed. They never were returned to me afterwards, but other notes for the same sums and of the same date, signed by W. Preston only, were delivered to me instead of them. And I never again saw or heard of the above-mentioned notes, until they were brought to me a few days since with a request that I should endorse them, which I therefore cheerfully did. No money was ever paid for them.

JOHN WILKINS.
March 10, 1838.

NEW MAGAZINE OF VARIETIES BENTLEY'S MISCELLANY,

EDITED BY "BOZ," with illustrations by Cruikshank. Never has a periodical more earnestly fulfilled its promises than this hilarious magazine It undertook to be comical, and it is comical almost to a fault The humor of Boz is humor per se there is nothing like it, nothing so good in its way, and it would appear that the springs from which it is drawn are inexhaustible.
[London Atlas]

The extraordinary share of popularity this Comic Periodical is said to have experienced in England under the editorial management of Charles Dickens Esq has led the subscriber to believe that an American edition of a work of such high repute for wit and talent would in addition to the Reprints of Reviews and Magazines of a character already issued by him be acceptable he therefore respectfully takes leave to announce to the public his determination to commence an American series (the similar of the original) of Bentley's Miscellany with the January numbers of the present year 1838 and which he may expect to have ready during the month of February.

Many editors of journals of acknowledged taste have extracted copiously from the numbers of the Miscellany as they have appeared and the Pickwick Papers, emanating from the pen of the talented editor, is now in course of profitable republication in this country The character of the Work therefore, from these circumstances, it may be presumed is so far favorably known as partially to have received the stamp of public approbation, which encourages the proprietor to hope that in being the mere humble instrument of presenting the first complete reprint of BENTLEY'S MISCELLANY to the literati of the United States he has not mistaken the public taste, and if his inference in this respect be correct he may, with confidence look forward to the result,
WM LEWER
Broadway, corner of Pine Street

Conditions 1 The Work will be issued in monthly numbers as quickly after the receipt of the original copy as practicable Price 50 cents per number or Five Dollars per annum payable in advance

II It will be handsomely printed in a bold type on a paper of first rate quality, size demy 8vo, and stitched up in a cover of unique design and made in every respect to correspond with the London edition. Subscriptions rec'd by
